The Massachusetts highway commission declares the New England Telephone company has been guilty of improper and illegal practices, among others that of furnishing free telephones to members of the Boston board of aldermen. The commission recommends the discontinuance of these practices. Are there any aldermen in Barre receiving free telephones? When the New England company was asked recently if it could not donate the use of a telephone for use at the city hospital, the statement was made by the official applied to that it was furnishing all the free telephones it allowed in Barre to city officials and could not aid the hospital any? Who are these officials who receive free telephones?

THROWN STONES FALL SOMEWHERE.

If the attorneys of the United States government are wise, they will take cognizance of a legal incident that occurred in New Bedford, Mass., recently. In it they may find a precedent which will aid them in fixing securely on the Standard Oil company the Landis fine of $29,240,000.

A syndicate, or combination of three men, was convicted of stealing 45 cents' worth of apples from the grounds of Henry H. Rogers, the actual head of the Standard Oil company. In the aggregate the fines were $45, which is exactly 10,000 per cent. of the value of the apples, the taking of which constituted an offense against the laws. The amount involved in the rebating cases in which the Standard Oil company was convicted bears something like a relation in values to the apples taken from Mr. Rogers' orchard, when the fines imposed are considered as a basis. The fines inflicted in each instance of those offenses against the law are about 10,000 per cent. on the amounts involved in the offenses. Now if the Landis fine of $29,240,000 is excessive, the fine of $45 inflicted for stealing 45 cents' worth of apples must be, per contra, if the fine of $45 is reasonable, the fine of $29,240,000 must be. It would therefore appear that Mr. Rogers has been most indiscreet in permitting the prosecution of this combination of apple stealers. He may have given, thereby, an opening to the attorneys of the government which will disadvantage

The Standard Oil combination, that is under his direction. Perhaps it would be cruel to point out that old adage to Mr. Rogers, to wit: "Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

Woodstock, Sept. 20.—The house and barn of Roland Burnham at South Pompret, three miles from this village, were burned yesterday about noon. The fire started in the barn in some unknown way. Mr. Burnham and family were at home but nothing could be done to save the building. A gang of men working near by assisted in getting the tools and wagons out of the barn, and some household goods were saved. Mr. Burnham was severely burned about the face and hands in trying to save his effects. The loss on the house, barn and contents is about $2,000, insurance $1,000.

MONTPELIER

Jacob Riss, who lectured Wednesday evening at Richmond before the annual convention of the Kings' Daughters, was in town yesterday, the guest of Mason S. Stone, grand superintendent of education, with whom he dined at the Riverside. Mr. Riss left for Boston on the noon train.

The Levy Construction company of Springfield, Mass., builders of factories, roads, docks, bridges, railroads and power plants, doing all kinds of architectural and engineering work, have filed a copy of their articles of association at the secretary of state's office for the purpose of registering in this state. They have a capital stock of $50,000.

James J. Young had a shock last Sunday and is gradually growing weaker. His recovery is not expected. He is living with Mrs. William D. Marney, his daughter. He has had three or four sinking spells before, but this one the doctors call a shock. It affects his left side. Mr. Young is 74 years of age. Mrs. Arthur Whitcomb, his daughter, has been called to East Montpelier by his illness.

J. M. Boutwell, L. B. Brooks, H. W. Wheeler and George Stratton, arrived home at 7:15 Wednesday evening from Boutwell's automobile at 8:30 Wednesday morning, the distance traveled being 222 4/10 miles, and several stops being made. The machine ran without a skip, and no horses were frightened and not even a chicken killed. The party left here Sunday noon, stopping at Keene, N. H., over night and arriving in Boston Monday forenoon. The distance traveled going down was 209 miles, but a longer route was taken on the return trip. Some splendid roads were found and some that were not splendid, especially between here and Barre.

The divorce docket in Washington county court was increased yesterday by 19 new entries, in which John G. Wing is attorney in nine, and M. M. Gordon of Barre in seven. These will mostly be heard at the present term of Washington county court. The next case for trial on the docket is H. B. Wedge, administrator of Israel Gilman, and against the Central Vermont Railway company, but this case will not be taken up in its order. The next case for trial will be Delbert G. Lawson, by next friend, against Doctors Crane of Hardwick and Hall of Woodbury for malpractice.

The City Hall building committee was in conference with Architect Adams until nearly midnight Wednesday, and all of yesterday forenoon. The revised plans were thoroughly discussed and changes were suggested which will give the auditorium a larger seating capacity. Architect Adams says it will take at least six weeks to get ready to break ground after the plans have been perfected, and it is not probable that anything will be done this fall toward laying the foundation. Whether the voters will take a hand in the matter at the next annual March meeting remains to be seen.

DEATH OF H. A. BURT.

Former Swanton Citizen Dies in the West.

Swanton, Sept. 20.—Word was received here Wednesday morning of the death in Pickrel, Nebraska, at 1:15 p. m., Tuesday, of Henry A. Burt. The cause of his death was Bright's disease. The first word of his illness to Swanton relatives and friends came Saturday, followed by a telegram Tuesday stating that he was critically ill and could live but a few hours.

Henry Augustus Burt was born in Fairfield September 16, 1863, the son of the late Henry Adams and Olive Lyman Burt. After attending the common schools, he was graduated at Norwich university, after which he studied law in the office of his father and was admitted to the bar.

For many years he was the junior member of the law firm of Burt & Burt, handling at the same time an extensive insurance business.

In September, 1903, Mr. Burt went from Swanton to a ranch in Pickrel, Nebraska, hoping that the out-of-door life would help him regain his health, which had become impaired by the close confinement of office work.

He is survived by his wife, Nora W. Burt, a niece of Mrs. F. T. Cutler of Barre, his daughter, Miss Amy M. Burt, and his sister, Mrs. Edward S. Stone.

The body is to be brought here for burial, and the funeral will be held from Holy Trinity church, Monday, at 11 a. m.

Mr. Burt was recently in Swanton at the time of his father's death, and appeared in his usual health, and the news of his death came as a great shock to his many Swanton friends. Few men ever lived in Swanton who could count more persons their friends than Henry A. Burt. Of an unusually kindly and genial nature, he was everybody's friend, and the many deeds of charity inspired by his large heart will never be known. While a resident of Swanton Mr. Burt was identified with the social life of the town, and took a lively interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the town.

Mr. Burt will be much missed, for although he had made his home in the west for the past few years, many of his friends had hoped that sooner or later Mr. Burt would return to Swanton and make this his home.

Moving Pictures and Illustrated Songs

Mr. William Robertson, one of Barre's best known citizens, will be in attendance each evening and render all the latest popular illustrated songs. Mr. Robertson is gifted with a fine baritone voice bordering on the bass. In his rendition of a song Mr. Robertson uses excellent expression, leaving one always with the desire to hear the songs once more. This, taken with the beautiful illustrations that he completes each song, makes a very enjoyable feature of the entertainment.

The Moving Picture part of the program will consist of all the latest subjects on the market and will change each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, making three entirely different entertainments each week. Songs changed Mondays and Thursdays. We are guaranteed the latest and most up-to-date subjects for our Moving Pictures.

Ladies and children can come to this show unattended and be assured of courteous treatment at all times. Absolutely no offensive pictures will be shown. The person managing this little theatre has two children of the same kind now running in Montpelier, where they have become very popular and are patronized by the best people of that town. This alone should be a sufficient guarantee of the quality of this entertainment and the manner in which it is conducted.

Admission 5 Cents. Entertainment every half hour. If you come late for the beginning of a show you are welcome to stay to the next without any extra charge.

Doors will be open each afternoon from 2 to 5:30. Evenings 7 to 10:30. Children under 10 years admitted free afternoons only when accompanied by either parent. Watch for the date of opening.
